The Tale of Sinuhe

This is a translation of the Middle Egyptian literary text known as the Tale of Sinuhe. The text begins with the death of Amenemhat I and the flight of Sinuhe to the Levant.

`jw=f Hr sDm n Hm=f`

He was listening to his majesty.

`nfr pw jr.n=k r=k`

Good is what you have done for yourself.

The manuscript is preserved on Papyrus Berlin 3022 and several ostraca from Deir el-Medina.

1. Koch, R. (1990). Die Erzaehlung des Sinuhe. Brussels.

2. Parkinson, R.B. (1997). The Tale of Sinuhe. Oxford.